SHOT IN THE BACK.

Dastardly Attempt to Murder Lums

Wright, a Prominent Beech Grove Farmer.

The story of a dastardly attempt to murder Lums Wright, without making Beech Grove, McLean county, resolved Owensboro Friday morning, says the Messenger.

Mr. Wright's statement of the matter is about as follows: On Thursday afternoon Emmet Chapman, a young man of about nineteen years of age, and Lums Wright, who is about 45 years of age, and lives alone. Chapman wanted to engage his services to Mr. Wright as a farm laborer through the crop season.

Wright wanted to see the man and talked over the matter and had about closed a trade when Mr. Wright went to the fire place and was putting some coal in the grate, and Chapman started a fire, which was between 7 and 8 o'clock after night, when Chapman drew a revolver and shot Mr. Wright in the back. Mr. Wright turned suddenly toward Chapman just as the latter fired the second shot. The first shot took effect just below the shoulder blade and the second shot took effect just below the left nipple and would have produced instant death if the bullet had not been deflected by a rib. Mr. Wright then made a grab at Chapman to defend himself when the latter ran out of the house and fled.

During the fight Chapman fired a third shot, which was between 7 and 8 o'clock after night, when Chapman drew a revolver and shot Mr. Wright in the back. Mr. Wright turned suddenly toward Chapman just as the latter fired the second shot. The first shot took effect just below the shoulder blade and the second shot took effect just below the left nipple and would have produced instant death if the bullet had not been deflected by a rib. Mr. Wright then made a grab at Chapman to defend himself when the latter ran out of the house and fled.

There were no witnesses to the shooting and the whereabouts of Chapman has not been ascertained. A warrant was issued against Chapman, charging him with shooting with intent to kill, and while he denies the charge, still a telephone message from Beech Grove stated that Chapman was evading arrest and that the McLean county officers had not yet apprehended him.

THE DOORS ARE OPEN.

The Only Unwelcome Guests are

Those Who Refuse to Accept the Chicago Platform.

The Milwaukee Journal prints the following: Milwaukee Journal.—Dear Sir: I am just in receipt of your favor of March 22, in which you say:

"It is asserted here that many Democrats who voted for McKinley in 1896 feel that they have been trifled with by the Republicans, and are likely to vote the Democratic ticket again at the next Presidential campaign, though they may not be in full accord with the platform."

And ask: "What is your opinion, would be the wise course to pursue toward these people? In what way may their affiliation with the party be facilitated?"

In reply would say that I have no authority to speak for the Democratic party, and in what I say express only my opinion. I am satisfied that you are correct in saying that many of the Democrats who voted for McKinley are disappointed with the Republican administration and will vote the Democratic ticket in the future. I think that the same statement could be made in regard to many of those who voted for the Palmer and Buckner ticket. The Democrats have no power to open their arms to these people, whether they be new converts or former members of the party. To err is human, and those who have erred should be allowed to do so and subscribe to the party creed in order to be taken back into the party. They may dissent from some portions of the platform, as some did in '96, and yet subscribe to the platform as a whole. I have found among the Democrats no hostility toward those who wish to correct their mistakes. I think the Democratic party now has a platform that is satisfactory to the Democrats. A Democrat who comes back to the party for the purpose of fighting against the reaffirmation of the Chicago
